

Lest We Forget

O valiant hearts who to your glory came
Through dust of conflict and through battle flame;
Tranquil you lie, your knightly virtue proved,
Your memory hallowed in the land you loved.

Proudly you gathered, rank on rank to war,
As who had heard God's message from afar;
All you had hoped for, all you had, you gave
To save mankind—yourselves you scorned to save.

Splendid you passed, the great surrender made;
Into the light that nevermore shall fade;
Deep your contentment in that blest abode,
Who wait the last clear trumpet call of God.

Long years ago, as earth lay dark and still,
Rose a loud cry upon a lonely hill,
While in the frailty of our human clay,
Christ, our Redeemer, passed the self same way.

Still stands His Cross from that dread hour to this,
Like some bright star above the dark abyss;
Still, through the veil, the Victor's pitying eyes
Look down to bless our lesser Calvaries.

These were His servants, in His steps they trod,
Following through death the martyred Son of God:
Victor, He rose; victorious too shall rise
They who have drunk His cup of sacrifice.

O risen Lord, O Shepherd of our dead,
Whose cross has bought them, and whose staff has led,
In glorious hope their proud and sorrowing land
Commits her children to Thy gracious hand.

J.S. Arkwright

“One of the interesting phases of a Chaplain's work in the war was the Padre's Hour when for one of the regular training hours each week he had the men for discussion of fundamental life questions. There the meaning of life often came up for discussion and often the question was seriously raised whether anything was really worthwhile, whether any standards and values were really important in the long run. Possibly the question was partially the expression of a general weakening of moral fibre over the past few decades, sometimes possibly it was the disillusionment of the war, sometimes it was to provoke the Padre but more often the question was in earnest.”

Excerpt from the Inaugural Address of President William Thomas Ross Flemington
